

HOME RULE.

Bill Making Unbroken Progress and Nearer the Statute Book.

Final Stages of Irish Measure to Be Rushed by Asquith Ministry.

Will Pass House of Commons Next Week and Become the Law.

ORANGE DEMANDS IMPOSSIBLE.

Turning to the eternal Irish question, it is going through another of its many phases this week, cables Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P. The drama does not unfold itself on the public stage, but in private rooms where the leaders of the different parties hold informal and friendly conversations. Mr. Asquith has of course met Mr. Redmond, and indeed is always in frank and close touch with him; but there has been no meeting between Redmond and Carson, though they may come together at some later date. Nor has there been any discussion of Ulster as yet. Up to the present the one thing discussed in the form of procedure during the remaining stages of the home rule bill. Partly by pressure of friends of the bill and partly by pressure of its enemies, the situation happily has crystallized into a compromise agreement that the present bill should proceed without any attempt to change it, and that whatever change may come for the purpose of a general agreement should be the subject of a new amending bill. The advantage of this arrangement for the bill is that it can go through its remaining stages more rapidly, while the advantage to the Tories is that they can get the House of Lords to reject the bill on second reading and thus absolve themselves from all responsibility for the measure. Of course under the Parliament act this rejection has no influence on the fortunes of the bill, which practically will be the law of the land when it passes third reading for a third time in the House of Commons. Indeed rejection by the Lords is welcomed by Irishmen as making the progress of the bill to the statute book more rapid.

It is one of the curious conditions in these closing days of the great struggle that each of the four parties is confronted by difficulties in its own ranks. The Liberal Ministry has some trouble from its zealous federalists, who wish to utilize the Irish bill for pushing their pet scheme of home rule all round, but this action is small and not powerful. The British Tories are as fiercely divided that their meetings between the die-hards and the conciliators have been characterized by furious language, and it is whispered even by an approach to physical encounter. Carson stands face to face with the Frankenstein which he has created in Ulster, and which at any moment might devour him if he appeared to relax in reason and conciliation. The position of the Nationalists is healthier than that of any of the rest. What difficulty they have is created by others. Churchill's foolish and impulsive speech seeming to forecast further concessions to Ulster produced in some quarters in Ireland an atmosphere of misgiving and suspicion. But this is transient, and has been largely removed by Redmond's emphatic statement that he has not been asked by Asquith or anybody even to discuss further concessions, and Ireland continues to rally to him in a great stream of enthusiastic votes in his leadership.

Another splendid factor in the situation is Asquith's lucidity of mind and present loyalty and his quickness in absolutely realizing all the complex factors in the Irish situation. Whatever embarrassment may be created, either by indiscreet colloquies or untoward accidents, smooth themselves out as if by magic under Asquith's soothing and loyal hand and during many hours of trial and some hours of embarrassment in this terrific fight the Premier has risen steadily to a position of absolute and complete trust in his wisdom and loyalty. What then will happen is that on Tuesday next Asquith will carry the gullotine resolution strictly limiting debate on the home rule bill so that there will be no opportunity during that stage of suggesting or discussing amendments.

After a debate of two or at the most three days on third reading the bill will pass the House of Commons, probably week after next, when it practically is made law. Thus serious and probably friendly conversations will take place with a view to meeting the difficulties in Ulster. These difficulties may prove insurmountable if the Orangemen persist in demands which neither the Liberals nor the Irishmen could possibly accept, such for instance as the exclusion of the counties of all Ulster or even the exclusion of more than four counties. Some Orange hot-heads still demand the exclusion of all Ulster, but the real struggle will be made to add the counties of Fermanagh and Tyrone to the excluded counties. As the Nationalists have a large majority in these two counties such a demand is intolerable and unacceptable and Irishmen would lose the bill rather than accept such exclusion and their attitude will be similar to anything which is calculated to produce exclusion of any part of Ulster permanently or indefinitely. My own impression is that, while beginning with impossible demands, Carson will ultimately be satisfied with much less. The passage of the home rule bill into law will create a new and radically transformed situation. In that situation Carson must show the reasonableness of defeat and Redmond can respond with the generosity of victory.

ORPHAN SOCIETY MEETING.

The new Catholic Orphan Society, organized some weeks ago, has perfected its organization by the adoption of by-laws and the election of officers for the year 1914. This society will assist in the maintenance of the two orphanages, St. Thomas' and St. Vincent's, and to promote the work of branch societies will be soon formed in the English-speaking congregations. The parish societies will be represented in the central body and will report at the monthly meetings. Committees will be soon named to look after the necessities of both homes, the movement having the approval of Bishop O'Donnoghue, who promises his help and blessing. Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a public meeting in Bertrand Hall, Sixth and Oak streets, when the object and purpose of the society will be placed before those present and plans perfected for the formation of the parish branches. The meeting is also intended to further the arrangements for the Fourth of July picnic to be held on the grounds of St. Vincent's Asylum for the benefit of the two institutions. As there is a widespread interest in the orphanage a large meeting is expected.

MEMORIAL.

In the death of Mrs. Bridget Monaghan, which occurred at St. Joseph's Infirmary, the church militant suffers a severe loss. Her family moved from Central City to this city on the Tuesday prior to her death, and became members of St. James parish. Her object in having them to move to Louisville was that she might attend church, so that she could attend daily mass and be enabled to receive more frequently her Divine Lord in holy communion. She was the mother of a large family of Irish Catholic sons and daughters, and she desired therefore no other eulogy to keep her memory. Fitting and impressive were the last obsequies, which took place in the chapel of the infirmary on Saturday morning following her death. Solemn requiem mass was sung by Rev. Patrick M. Monaghan, son of the deceased, with Rev. A. Meyerling, her former pastor at Central City, as deacon; Rev. E. E. Willet as sub-deacon; and Rev. E. E. Monaghan as master of ceremonies. The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donnoghue pronounced the absolution, while the choir of St. Mary Magdalene's church rendered the music. One-half the chapel was reserved for the priests and Sisters of the various communities. Even though the weather was inclement every religious order in the city was represented. Father Meyerling delivered the funeral sermon, taking for his text, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." As the sermon developed into a panegyric the speaker dwelt at length on the beautiful life and traits of character of the deceased. He told of her humility and maternal dignity, which proved itself in devotion to family and friends, sacrifices for Mother Church and complete submission to the Divine will in all trials and humiliations which came to her from the chastening hand of God. ## LOUISVILLE GETS CONVENTION.

Francis J. Carroll, Grand Secretary, and William Madden, Chairman of the Board of Grand Directors of the Young Men's Institute for the Atlantic Jurisdiction, visited Louisville last Sunday and had a conference with Robert T. Burke, Grand President, and V. K. Ecker, Grand Director, concerning the matter in the Atlantic jurisdiction. It was learned that the order throughout the jurisdiction is in splendid condition and that a number of councils show increased membership since the Pittsburgh convention. Several new councils are contemplated for the near future. It is probable that the next meeting of the Board of Grand Directors will be held in Indianapolis during the month of July. Louisville will have the 1915 convention, which will bring to the city a large body of young men and many visitors.

LAST OF SEASON.

The last of the season's eucres and lotto series given under the auspices of the St. Louis Bertrand church debt and building fund will take place next Friday evening in Bertrand Hall, Sixth street, near Oak. A large and tempting lot of cakes has been secured for prizes, this feature being one of the chief elements of success during the series just closing. The Committee of Arrangements representing the ladies are Mrs. John M. Brennan, Mrs. S. J. McElliot, Mrs. Harry Fischer, Mrs. J. C. Hood, Mrs. Mary Hackmiller, Misses Fanny Kennedy, Joie Godfrey, Nellie C. Finegan, Mary R. Kelly, Anne Casey and Kathryn Baldwin. Games will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

LIFE'S WORK ENDED.

Mrs. Josephine Revere, widow of Ferdinand Revere and one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of Floyd county, died Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Sunderhouse, at St. Light, north of New Albany. She was eighty-seven years of age. Mrs. Revere was a native of France and came from that country to Floyd county in 1834. Her husband died a number of years ago, and besides her daughter, Mrs. Sunderhouse, she is survived by five sons, Frank, Jo-

WANTED—MORE SUCKERS.

Pitiful Wail From the Menace to Its Dupes and Supporters, Who Are Told That More Lucre Is Needed For A. P. A. Campaign.

Statement Convincing Evidence That You Can't Fool All the People At the Time—End of Mud Gutter Campaign Now In Sight.

The Kentucky Irish American cheerfully reprints the following from the A. P. A. sheet, the Menace, as a sign of awakening on the part of many thousands who contributed to the support of this enemy of American peace between men of all religions. The statement of its editor plainly shows that he and his associates are going to make one more effort to grab a few dollars from the one class who believe and swallow everything they read for awhile, and from the old dyed in the wool A. P. A.'s, like the Junior Order and Guardians of Liberty, who are haunting their hatred of Catholicism behind closed doors all of the year around and boasting of their patriotism everywhere except in front of a recruiting office. The absence of the latter class was especially noted in the different memorial services of the heroes of Vera Cruz when the nation paid tribute to the dead, many of whom were immigrants and the sons of immigrants, whom our Junior Order and Guardians of Liberty are forever ranting against. This fact is believed by many to be the cause of the alighting of the Menace, but no cause is attributed in the following wail:

In last week's Menace I called attention to the fact that the circulation of the Menace has been on the decline for the past several weeks, notwithstanding the fact that Rome has been more flagrantly violent than ever in her history. This week she is doing her worst. She is burning Bibles, mobbing speakers and doing everything else damnable that she is capable of doing—in fact she has never behaved quite so bad before—and yet the Menace subscription list falls off!

It seems to me that at all times in the history of the world this is the time the Menace is worst needed. Maybe our readers think different. A few weeks longer will no doubt show that the office can not be maintained on receipts of less than a thousand dollars a day. These lines are being written on Thursday, the 30th, and I have just been handed the financial report for Tuesday, showing that the receipts were only $507.56 for the day, all told. I presume that the majority of Menace readers are familiar enough with figures and business affairs to know what such reports mean without any comment from me. I realize that because the Menace does an enormous business, because it accessarily handles a good deal of money in its transactions and requires commodious quarters, many stories have gone out to the effect that its publishers are extremely wealthy. I might state that they are not paupers; but you can imagine about how long the average institution can run with an income of five hundred dollars a day and an expenditure of a thousand. You can figure this out without any talk from me, for I dislike to talk about finances at all—I wish there wasn't such a thing.

I am anxious, however, to know the trouble. The staff has worked day and night to give you a better paper than ever before. We answer all the letters we can get help to answer, and we have done all in our power to please every man on the list—of course that is impossible, but I say we have done all in our power. At the same time Rome has been doing her worst. She is burning Bibles, mobbing speakers and doing everything else damnable that she is capable of doing—in fact she has never behaved quite so bad before—and yet the Menace subscription list falls off!

It seems to me that at all times in the history of the world this is the time the Menace is worst needed. Maybe our readers think different. A few weeks longer will no doubt tell. At any rate we feel here that we have made a good fight—we at least feel that we have done our duty in warning the American people of their fate if they fail to crush the head of the serpent that has damned every nation that has allowed it to thrive unmolested.

Never before in its history has the Menace been compelled to speak so frankly of its financial condition—but frankness and honest dealing have been our steadfast policy, and I do not believe that the friends of this paper should be kept in darkness about a single phase of its business.

We have never asked for voluntary contributions, and shall not do so now. Any business that can not exist on legitimate profits should perish. If the people want the Menace and they have demonstrated in the past that they do—they will come to its rescue with sufficient orders for books and subscriptions to keep it going. The American people know whether or not they need the Menace. If they know they need it, they will come to its rescue if they know it needs their support—and they will know it needs their support when this issue reaches them, for I have told them in no uncertain terms.

The Menace can stand these deficits for a while—and is willing to stand them as long as it has a dollar it can call its own—but no institution can stand deficits permanently. I do not believe the boys on the firing line are going to put up the white flag now.

They have fought too many good fights to weaken just because they are in range of the enemy's guns. Not only that, but the cause is too great to lose. If it is great enough to fight for it is great enough to die for, and I appeal to every one of you to stand by the Menace until we are killed by the enemy—it is cowardly to surrender!

THEIR DEATHS COMMEMORATED.

By James A. Rooney.

This week are commemorated, as chronicled in our Catholic Chronology, the deaths of two Jesuit Fathers without the record of whose names and achievements for God and country no history of America would be complete. One was a Frenchman, the other a Belgian; both began their careers as Indian missionaries, one in Canada, the other among the men of the West. Nearly 200 years intervened between their deaths. One died at the age of thirty-nine years and his statue is in the Hall of Fame in Washington as the discoverer of our mightiest river; the other lived to be seventy-two years old, ennobled by the King of the Belgians and honored here universally as the ablest and most successful of the American Indians.

If a Catholic school boy should like to trace Father Marquette's journeyings through the wilderness in his quest for souls no less than for the discovery of the Father of Waters let him first locate La Pointe (now called Bayfield), where there was an Indian mission that had been established by Father Claude Allouez. He will find it on the south shore of Lake Superior, near the present city of Ashland, Wis. It was there, as he tells us himself, that he first heard from some visiting Indians of a mighty stream that watered their country and flowed far to the south. They invited him to visit and teach their people and to view the great river. He was enthusiastic to do both. The breaking out of an Indian war, however, compelled him to return to St. Ignace, and in 1671 he went to the straits of Mackinac, which separate the Upper from the Lower Michigan peninsulas. He built a chapel for the Hurons on the northern shore and called the place St. Ignace, and that is its name today.

Louis Joliet and five Frenchmen arrived there on December 8, 1672, sent from Montreal to investigate the stories of the great river and to find it if possible. By May of the camp of Sitting Bull, where he was received as usual with every mark of old time affection. His presence and arguments secured peace and the treaty was signed July 2, 1865. In reporting the matter Gen. Stanley wrote: "Father De Smet, alone of the entire white race could penetrate to these cruel savages and return safe and sound. One of the Chiefs in speaking to him while he was in the hostile camp exclaimed: 'If it had been any other man than you, Black-robe, this day would have been his last.'"

EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Catholic Educational Association will be held at Atlantic City, N. J., on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 29, 30, July 1 and 2, 1914. The meeting is held under the auspices of Right Rev. James A. McPaul, D. D., Bishop of Trenton, who has extended a cordial invitation to Catholic educators to hold their meeting in his diocese, and who has given his generous assistance in the preparations for the meeting. He has appointed Rev. W. J. McConnell, the Superintendent of Schools of the Trenton diocese, to have charge of the arrangements, and everything at the present time indicates that the meeting will be fully as successful as any which has been held by the association. A cordial invitation is extended by the Right Reverend Bishop, by Right Rev. Francis Shanley, Provincial General of the Association, and by the Presidents of the departments to all Catholic educators, to all pastors and teachers and others interested in Catholic education to attend the convention.

ELEVEN FIREMEN HURT.

Fire that entailed great loss in the tobacco district at Eleventh and Main brought with it death and injury that cast a pall of gloom over the city. Charles Koch lost his life while cutting electric wires, and Thursday morning eleven firemen went down with the roof of the Louisville Paint Company building, sustaining serious injuries. The unfortunate fire fighters were Patrick Mulloy, Fergus Kennedy, Tom Manning, Ray Leatherman, Emmet Moore, Daniel Clark, Charles Johnson, John Saul, Jacob Michaels and Clarence Lucas. Those hurt Wednesday night were Joseph Haden, W. T. Tyler, both linemen, and William Smith, a fireman. How badly they were hurt had not been determined when this issue went to press, but hopes are entertained that all will recover.

ANNUAL MAY SERVICES.

The annual May services at St. Leo's church, Highland Park, will be held tomorrow and will be marked by unusual splendor. In the morning there will be a high mass at which a class of children will receive their first holy communion from the hands of their pastor, the Rev. Father John Fitzgerald, who has devoted much time to their preparation for this happy event. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be the May procession and solemn vespers, when Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., of St. Patrick's, will preach the sermon.

ST. COLUMBA'S.

Last Sunday afternoon a tremendous gathering, including thirty members of the priesthood, were present at the laying of the cornerstone of the St. Columba's parochial school at Thirty-fifth and Jefferson streets. Participating in the exercise were the Very Rev. James Cronin, Vicar General, the Rev. Robert Crane, deacon; the Rev. Celestine Brey, subdeacon; the Rev. Charles P. Raffo and the Rev. John D. Kalaher, pastor of the congregation. When finished Father Kalaher will have one of the finest school buildings in the diocese.

CONTINUES IN LUCK.

At the meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., on Monday evening in Bertrand Hall, the Visiting Committee reported that their report was a duplicate of last month, not a member being on the sick or disabled list at present, which augurs well for the continued improvement of the division's finances. President John H. Hennessy reported that he had visited the new home of Division 3, and expected that division to be located there about June 1, when the other local divisions would be invited to attend a housewarming.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

The ladies of the Sacred Heart parish are greatly encouraged over the prospects for their annual candy pulling and reunion, to be given on Monday, May 26, in the school at Seventeenth and Broadway. Already there has been a good sale of tickets and many pleasing features are being arranged. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the school.

WELCOME VISITORS.

The Kentucky Irish American office was visited this week by Messrs. Thomas Gleason, of Covington, and Robert J. Serey, of Ashland, who were delegates to the Knights of Columbus State convention at Bardonia. Both have many friends here who are always glad to welcome them.

DR. McDERMOTT ILL.

Dr. Thomas L. McDermott, member of the Board of Public Safety, left Monday night for Cleveland, Ohio, to consult a specialist for throat trouble. Dr. McDermott has been suffering from an affection of the throat for some time, and his case is a puzzle to local physicians and specialists.

NEGRO ABUSE OF SEGREGATION.

In discussing the campaign for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, our old friend, Lewis Humphrey, the political editor of the Evening Post, stated that the Kentucky Irish American had grown weary of carrying the McCree campaign on its shoulders and hoped for help from the Courier-Journal and Times because of the appointment of Gen. W. B. Hildebrand to the State Range Commission by Gov. McCree, but the writer did not discuss the point claimed in these columns, viz.: That the vote in the primary is going to be confined chiefly to the cities because of the inability of the farmers and country people to vote or take latest about the time of the primary, the date being Saturday, August 2. It can not be denied that ex-Gov. Beckham is the strongest of the three candidates with the country element, but on the other hand it can not be safely disputed that he is the weakest of the candidates in the cities, and as the bulk of the vote will necessarily come from the cities, Beckham and his allies are not as confident of the result as they claim to be. It has been contended in these columns from the outset that the Louisville Democracy is not friendly to Beckham, and if both of his opponents stay in the race he is sure to finish third, this being said without any bias in the matter, simply taking into account the fact that Beckham or his man Haley have never catered to the Democracy of cities, but have always preferred being known as friends of the farmer and those residing in the country districts.

Then again the Democrats of the cities and towns have always doubted Beckham's sincerity in his espousal of prohibition for a platform, many believing that he was inspired by motives of revenge for lack of support or direct opposition of the liquor interests; but this latter class of Democrats, and they are many, can not see their way clear to voting for a candidate who, when the opportunity arose, always punished or harassed the entire Democracy of the cities to strike at his enemies of the liquor interests. The city of Louisville can be taken as a very fair criterion of how the vote of the cities will go in this race, and well posted politicians say that Gov. McCree will receive two votes to Beckham's one, and this without any special help from his organization if he has one here, simply because of the reasons stated above. This is again evidenced by the fact that the Post in its daily espousal of the Beckham cause has only been a quiet guide to the voters, while the Board of Safety, while a little investigation will show that a majority of the leading Democrats approached as to their views will tell you that they have no especial choice, but "that they are against Beckham for anything."

Mayor Beaman and the Democratic administration never accomplish anything else they are to be congratulated for the passage of the segregation ordinance, which is now a law, in spite of the opposition of a few misinformed women and a Board of Trade who, at the eleventh hour, made a feeble protest, but had no representative at the Council meeting when it was voted on. One of the colored speakers stated in his speech before the Board of Aldermen that the Kentucky Irish American, the Times and the Real Estate Bulletin were the only papers to discuss the merits of the bill, but neglected to tell of the colored organ here, which has been loudly claiming race equality for the high-toned darkies, who want to force themselves upon the whites, and as proof of this read the following taken from the latest issue of the negro paper:

Segregation, class legislation pure and simple, unjust and damnable—now adorns the statute books of the city, and put there by the great white man because in his heart of hearts he is jealous and envious of his black fellow citizen's progress. Depreciation of property values! Bah! The reason segregation has become a law is because narrow-minded and little-souled white men were enraged because black men have emerged from the filth and dirt of back highways and have moved into handsome homes and have taken on the appearance of prosperity. Colored men and women flitting here and there in automobiles and carriages, and well-dressed men alighting therefrom in attendance at their own social functions, entering well built and modern homes—their own—this is what has goaded the poor white man to desperation, and in his envious, jealous heart this law was conceived and executed. Say what they will, that is the whole case in a nutshell. The little white man's jealousy and envy of his black neighbor! So with his majority and power he has sought to humiliate him and "teach the negro his place."

HOPE FOR PEACE.

The dove of peace still hovers over the Mexican situation, which gives hope for peace. The Catholic Sun opines that this will give the Guardians of Liberty opportunity to proceed with their propaganda. In peace these tin patriots are most brave—in their minds. In war they are not to be seen or heard.

STATE LOSES.

Kentucky mourns the death of Col. John C. Mayo, which occurred in New York City after a hard struggle. Col. Mayo was a quiet benefactor who did much good without publicity. His death leaves a vacancy that will not be soon filled. Living a clean and exemplary life, many will pray that for him there will be eternal rest and happiness.

THEY RING TRUE.

Bishop Van de Ven, in his address before the Louisiana Catholic Federation, delivered an address that rang true, and from which is extracted the following:

Besides being good and true Catholics, which is essential, it is also necessary that you be intelligent Catholics; else your faith would be like a useless weapon in your hands. You must know your religion; you must be familiar with Catholic thought and activity; you must be fully acquainted with the Catholic viewpoint of the chief questions of the day, and in order to be that kind of intelligent Catholics it is necessary that you be patrons and constant readers of Catholic literature. And here I am perhaps touching the weakest spot in American Catholicity. We have too few Catholics who are really equipped to represent and to defend their faith before the world. An ignorant Catholic is at any time, but especially in this enlightened age, a poor champion of the truth, and a worthless representative of his church, and there is no doubt, as Plus X. has said, that the church suffers much more at the present day from the ignorance, the apathy and the supine indifference of some of her own members than from the open hostility of her enemies. Hence we have so often insisted on the necessity of patronizing the Catholic press, and of having good, sound Catholic reading matter in the home, and I say frankly here today that as long as Catholics confine their reading to secular publications, and have no time or taste for Catholic papers and periodicals, I have little hope for them or for the cause they represent. Let subscription to at least one Catholic periodical be a condition for membership in our Catholic societies. What is the use of having a mass of dull material, and what can be expected of Catholics who are wholly unacquainted and out of touch with Catholic interests?

The needless insult given the American hotel proprietors recently, when they journeyed to London as delegates to an international convention, has stirred the ire of our neighbor, the Times, who now advises American tourists to shun certain London hotels. Better advice would be to give London and England a wide berth and go only where they will not be victims of snobbery.

Charles W. Post, the wealthy Battle Creek cereal food manufacturer, who for years has attracted wide attention because of his bitter hostility and attacks against labor unions, shot himself to death with a rifle last Saturday at Santa Barbara, Cal. Rising from poverty to affluence, his career was such that riches brought neither health nor happiness.

Hon. Ben Johnson has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Fourth Kentucky district. His splendid record in the House of Representatives should insure his election without opposition.

The outlook throughout the entire country is for a record-breaking crop year. Reports are that Kentucky will have an abundance of everything, which means good times for producers and consumers.

SENT UP OUR FLAG.

Ensign Edward Orrick McDonnell, brother of the Rev. Eugene De L. McDonnell, S. J., pastor of St. Aloysius' church and President of Gonzaga College, Washington, D. C., pulled the string that sent Old Glory aloft to replace the last Mexican flag flying over Vera Cruz port. Ensign McDonnell, of the United States navy, was born on November 13, 1891, and was appointed a midshipman from Maryland on September 12, 1908. He graduated from the Naval Academy on June 8, 1912, and was commissioned an Ensign, and is now on the battleship Florida, the flagship of the Atlantic fleet.

ENTIRELY NEW MINSTRELS.

The St. Charles Musical Assembly of the West End will give a classic minstrel show next Monday and Tuesday night in St. Charles Hall. Twenty-seventh and Chestnut streets, when six end men and a number of special stunts will keep the audience in an uproar. "Something entirely new" is promised, and in order to spring a surprise on the audience the programme is being kept quiet. The proceeds will be devoted to the church fund.

FRANK BURKE HURT.

While attempting to board an owl car at Sixth and Market street last Monday morning Frank P. (Jimmy) Burke, of the Herald typographical force, was thrown heavily to the pavement, breaking several bones in his right hand, and his physician states that he will be unable to work for some time.

MISS MITCHELL'S EXHIBITION.

The annual exhibition of Miss Blanche Mitchell's dancing class will take place next Wednesday evening at Macaulay's Theater, and many new and novel features will be introduced by the youngsters taking part. Reserved seats for entertainment are now on sale at the Montenegro-Riehm Music Company, and will be on sale at the theater on the day of the performance.

DELMONT EXCURSION.

The Delmont Club still retains its popularity with the amusement public, as was shown by the large attendance at their excursion Thursday evening on the Island Queen, although the weather was a little cool. The second and last of their series will take place next Thursday evening and a special dancing programme is being arranged, which is sure to bring out a host of this popular organization's friends and followers.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Fred W. Loeser, aged twenty-seven, was held Monday morning from St. Martin's church. Deceased was a well known painter, who died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Augusta Loeser, 547 Garden street. Several brothers and sisters survive him.

The sympathy of many friends is tendered Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pfeffer, 1604 Bardstown road, who last Sunday lost to rest in St. Louis cemetery their year-old daughter Mary Louise. While at the breakfast table at her home the child fell from her chair to the floor, and on Friday night she died of concussion of the brain.

Mrs. Mary Bergamini, aged seventy and for many years a resident of this city, died Monday night at the residence of her son-in-law, John Topp, 113 North Fourth street, an illness causing her death. Her funeral was held Thursday morning from St. Michael's church, Rev. Martin O'Connor being celebrant of the requiem mass.

Miss Winnie Garvey, thirty-two years old, daughter of the late James and Mary Garvey, was called to her heavenly reward Monday afternoon at her residence, 2116 St. Xavier street. For some time her health had been failing, but she bore her sufferings with patience and fortitude. Her funeral took place Wednesday morning from St. Cecilia's church, the remains being laid to rest with those of her parents in St. John's cemetery.

Though ill for a long time announcement of the death of Edward W. Spelman on Tuesday came as a painful shock to his many friends and relatives. Mr. Spelman suffered from tuberculosis, and several weeks ago was removed to the Waverly Hills Sanatorium, where he passed from his earthly suffering. He was for many years a shipping clerk and was a well known figure in the Main street tobacco district. Surviving him are a brother, James Spelman, book-keeper for E. J. O'Brien & Co., and one sister, Miss Winnie Spelman. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at St. Patrick's church, where for years the deceased had been a devout communicant.

What the Club Plan Is And What It Means to You

The Club Plan is an extended payment plan instituted purely and simply for the convenience of our patrons who wish to buy Household Goods, such as Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, etc.

When you join the Club Plan you are asked to pay 3 per cent of the amount of your purchases for joining; for instance

The membership fee on a $25.00 purchase would be 75c.

The membership fee on a $50.00 purchase would be $1.50.

The membership fee on greater purchases would of course be in proportion.

You are then asked to pay 10 per cent. of your total purchase as the first payment. For instance, on a $25.00 purchase you pay $2.50 down in addition to the membership fee, making a total of $3.25. The goods are then delivered to you and you arrange to pay the balance in small weekly or monthly payments.

When you consider that goods bought on the Club Plan are purchased at our cash prices—whether special or regular—you will more clearly see that our membership fee is nothing in comparison with the additional cost installment houses place on their goods for the privilege of time payments.

FURNITURE, CARPETS, RUGS, HOUSE FURNISHINGS AND OTHER HOUSEHOLD GOODS ARE SOLD ON THE CLUB PLAN.

Any further information regarding the Club Plan will be cheerfully given by our salespeople or at the Credit office on the fifth floor.

PONTAINE FERRY OPENING.

Tomorrow is a day much looked forward to by hundreds of men, women and children, who delight to avail themselves of the many big attractions "The Park Beautiful" has to offer in the way of amusement. Fontaine Ferry has many added attractions to offer its patrons this season, the most conspicuous of which is the "Beautiful Rainbow Esplanade," a construction covering 25,000 square feet of walk, beautifully colored, and illuminated at night. It is expected to prove a very popular attraction, not only as a walk but as a protection from rain and sun. It also adds much to the beauty of the park. Natiello and his band again furnish the music for the daily free concerts. The latest popular dances will be allowed at the park dance pavilion this summer, the music for which will be furnished by Schilling's orchestra. The big sanitary swimming pool, erected by the park management last year, will be thrown open to the public on May 30. All of the popular amusement devices, such as the racer dip, merry-go-round, circle swing and others will be in full operation. Last but not least comes the variety show, the inaugural bill being one well worthy of the park's past high standard of vaudeville.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

The games in the Catholic baseball league last Sunday afternoon furnished several surprises, the chief one being the ninth inning rally of the Bruins, who defeated the Champions and are now tied with the Olympians for first place, while the Kentucky Oaks by defeating Macklin Council are tied with the Champions for second honors. It is being freely predicted that the Macklin team in a few weeks will be a contender, their team work improving gradually, and this can also be said of the Athletics. Another large crowd was present at the games and it is expected that means to check the overflowing on the playing grounds will be adopted in the next week or two. The schedule for tomorrow is as follows: Imperials vs. Olympians, Athletics vs. Shamrocks, Bruins vs. Macklin and Kentucky Oaks vs. Champions. The boys from St. William's in the last named game claiming they will trim the former Champions, while Capt. Clegg says no more lost games from now on. Members of the league are loud in their praise of Vice President Ed Wolfe, who has just issued the schedule with the largest amount of paid advertising in the league's history, and which reflects great credit on his ability as a live wire. The standing to date:

Club.	Won	Lost	Pct.
Olympians.....	3	0	1.000
Bruins.....	3	0	1.000
Kentucky Oaks.....	2	1	.667
Champions.....	2	1	.667
Athletics.....	1	2	.333
Shamrocks.....	1	2	.333
Imperials.....	0	3	.000
Macklin.....	0	3	.000

CLARK HANDICAP TODAY.

The Clark Handicap, which is only second in importance to the Kentucky Derby, will be run this afternoon, and a rattling good field of many of the Derby eligibles are entered, which is sure to bring out a big Saturday afternoon crowd to the Louisville Jockey Club meeting, the stakes to the winner being valued at $2,000. Three important stake races will be decided next week—the Juvenile stakes for two-year-olds on Monday, the Frank Fehr stakes for three-year-olds on Wednesday, and the Kentucky Oaks for three-year-old fillies on Friday.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

A Sister Recommends It Most Highly. Kewaskum, Wis., August, 1912. Many of the Sisters are using Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic. I tried one bottle for nervousness and sleeplessness, and noticed not alone a marked improvement in my sleep, but felt much better since. Therefore recommend the Tonic most highly to all those suffering similarly. Sr. M. Alacoeque.

Helen G. McLaughlin, of Orem, N. Dak., says that Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic is certainly an excellent Nerve Tonic, because she was badly run down from nervousness and sleeplessness, but after taking the Tonic her nerves became stronger and she slept well.

Rev. Joe Riley, of Seymour, Ind., says he took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for sleeplessness, of which he suffered since 14 years. Since then he sleeps good and recommends the Tonic to all needing it for that purpose.

A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample Bottle to any address. For patients also get the medicine free. Prepared by Rev. Father Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since he had served since 1870.

OPENING AT RIVERVIEW.

Riverview Park, Louisville's great amusement place on the Ohio river, will open tomorrow for the 1914 season. Afternoon admissions will be free, but after 6 o'clock adults will be charged five cents, while for children accompanied by their parents there will be no charge. Col. Simons will sustain the reputation he has made of giving Louisville the best there is in music by introducing everything new this year. For the park patrons there will be free open air musicales, and Prof. Guzzardi's orchestra, assisted by three high class vaudeville singers, will be presented by the musical manager, Margaret Grant O'Brien, for the opening week. Mr. Diefenbach is again in charge of the "Spotless Kitchen" and will continue to serve those delicious home cooked meals in the best restaurant of the South. The management says come down, sit under the trees and enjoy the view of the beautiful Ohio river. Ladies and children are welcome to bring their baskets. A playground with swings at their disposal has been provided for the little ones, and a "grownup" will be on hand to care for them. It seems an assured fact that Louisvillians will avail themselves of a visit to Riverview when they want real recreation.

LOUISVILLE VS. MILWAUKEE.

With fair weather this afternoon and tomorrow the games between the Colonels and Milwaukee promise to draw record breaking crowds; as it is now conceded around the association circuit that these two teams are the real pennant contenders, this fact being predicted in these columns before the season opening, when many of the critics did not figure the Brewers to be any better than fourth place, but who are displaying the same ginger as last season and are a foe to be reckoned with. The splendid showing of the Colonels on the road has awakened the interest of every fan and near fan in this vicinity, and the one best bet for tomorrow is that it will be necessary to stretch the ropes in the field for an overbrow crowd, which is a proof of the loyalty of the local baseball followers to the liberal policy being pursued by Owner Wathen. Johnny Hughes' many local admirers are out in great numbers during the present series, rooting for the sturdy little catcher, but it is doubtful, if any of them were given the power, that they would trade either Severold or Clemens for the former backstop, these two having won a place for themselves by their splendid work.

KENTUCKY HANDICAP.

With the local racing season now in progress at Churchill Downs having just five more days to run, interest centers in the coming renewal of the Kentucky Handicap, the feature event of the Douglas Park spring meeting, which begins on Saturday, May 23, and continues for thirteen racing days. Douglas Park has never presented a more beautiful appearance than it does this spring. Since the last Kentucky Handicap was run off, on May 26 last year, many great and costly improvements have been made on the course and grounds. Today it is perhaps as complete a racing plant as there is in all America, and it is surely a delightful place to spend an afternoon and witness the greatest horse race in America ridden by the most brilliant jockeys striving for the supremacy. Manager Hachmeister has received assurances from leading men from all sections of the country that they will come to this meeting.

BARRY.

With the unveiling of the Barry monument at Washington today justice has at last been done the Father of the American Navy, who came to this country from Ireland and was one of the greatest heroes in the Revolutionary war.
